Club Discount on Magazine Subscriptions

Subscribe to Astronomy or Sky & Telescope magazine. Both magazines have regular monthly star charts, plus a calendar of what to view each month. A regular subscription to S&T is $43.00 per year, but you can get it at the club discount rate through the AAAA for only $33.00 per year. A regular subscription to Astronomy is also $39 per year, but you can get it at the club discount rate for only $29.00. You can subscribe to either magazine, or extend your current subscription, on the AAAA web page. Or send a check for the correct amount, made out to AAAA, to our address below. This offer is a benefit of membership in the AAAA.

AAAA

Introducing The American Association of Amateur Astronomers, the first nation-wide astronomy club. We welcome everyone interested in astronomy, from beginning amateur to nationally recognized expert. We are a club for astronomers with interests ranging from armchair astronomy and observing to astrophotography and CCD imaging.

The goal of the American Association of Amateur Astronomers is to foster interest in amateur astronomy by developing and providing programs for its membership and the amateur community at large in the areas of observational astronomy and electronic communications via the Internet.

As a member society of the Astronomical League, the AAAA is also interested in making the services of the Astronomical League available to those who do not have access to a local astronomy club, or whose local astronomy club is not a member society of the Astronomical League.

In short, the AAAA wants to create a personal experience for anyone interested in amateur astronomy. Come and share your hobby with us.

Observing Awards. Quarterly Newsletter. Astronomy News and Special Publications. Discounts on Astronomy Books and Magazines. Full Membership in the Astronomical League.
